

Short CV

Brian Burke-Gaffney was born in Winnipeg, Canada in 1950 and studied at St. Mary's University (Halifax) and Carleton University (Ottawa). He came to Japan in 1972, going on to train for nine years as an ordained monk at Myoshinji (Kyoto) and other Zen monasteries. He moved to Nagasaki in 1982. He is the recipient of the Nagasaki Prefecture Citizen's Award (1992) and Nagasaki Shimbun Culture Award (2016). An authority on the history of the former Nagasaki Foreign settlement, he earned a Ph.D. in 2007 for research on related topics. He has published several books in both Japanese and English, including Starcrossed: A Biography of Madame Butterfly (EastBridge, 2004) and Nagasaki: The British Experience 1854-1945 (Global Oriental UK, 2009). He is currently professor of cultural history at the Nagasaki Institute of Applied Science, honorary director of Glover Garden and representative of Flying Crane Press.
